

Hospital Breastfeeding Summit

The Crisis in LA Breastfeeding Rates:

The Impact on Community Health and Wellbeing

Los Angeles County has more than half of the lowest performing hospitals in the state in terms of breastfeeding rates. The Breastfeeding Task Force of Greater Los Angeles invites you to be a catalyst for change.

Breastfeeding Reduces Disparities

October 15, 2008 • 8:30 am - 4 pm

California Endowment

1000 North Alameda Street • Los Angeles, CA 90012

The Hospital Breastfeeding Summit will:

- Bring together community leaders, hospital administrators, government and media representatives who share a common goal of reducing health disparities.
- Highlight the crucial role that hospitals play in establishing a foundation for a lifetime of good health and wellbeing.
- Connect advocates and decision makers as partners to evoke change in hospital practices and increase community support to establish breastfeeding as the norm.

For more information please contact Karen Peters, kpeters@breastfeedla.org, voice mail - 213/596-5776.

Registration information to follow.

