Westside Child Trauma Council presents

Connie Lillas, PhD, MFT, RN

“PLACING TRAUMA INTO AN INTERDISCIPLINARY CONTEXT WHEN ASSESSING AND INTERVENING WITH BIRTH TO FIVE YEAR OLDS.”

Course objectives and goals:

✓ Identify three stress responses (in infants, young children, adults)
✓ Identify four at-risk regulatory patterns that compromise health
✓ Use arousal benchmarks from the regulation system to evaluate progress in treatment across all disciplines
✓ Identify six socio-emotional 0-5 milestones that provide markers for assessing quality of attachment
✓ Increase ability to translate underlying causes of behaviors and diagnostic categories into functional behaviors across 4 brain systems: regulation, sensory, relevance, and executive ✓ Increase awareness of how intensity, duration, and rhythm can be applied in intervention principles when using the four brain systems as guides for intervention
